LATEST NEWS

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

The following epitome of the latest news by telegraph, from all quarters, is taken from our colleagues—

Montevideo, 20th.

Quarantine of 24 hours put on vessels from Rio, although there is only one yellow fever case per day there.

Amortizable Bonds have fallen to 16⅞, owing to fears that the heirs of Diaz will throw 800,000 on the market.

Menes arrived from Valparaiso.

Rosario, 20th.

First cargo of rails for Western Santa Fe Railway expected shortly.

Alarming political rumours are afloat, and the resignation of several 'Gefes' of the National Guard expected.

The owner of the house where the Post Office is (14 months' rent unpaid) cannot get his tenant out, so has applied to the Supreme Court.

ARGENTINES ABROAD.

Last week a note of condolence appeared in several native colleagues, signed by the leading Argentine residents of Paris. The note was addressed to the widow of the late lamented Dr. Montes de Oca and, couched in terms of the keenest sympathy, expressed the heartfelt regrets of Argentines in Paris at the news of the demise of the eminent doctor. Close on one hundred names were appended to the letter and the array of initials was formidable enough to fix the attention of the reader on the growth of the Argentine colony in Paris.

In former years few Argentines went abroad: Porteños regarded Europe in the same light as people in Europe to-day regard South America. The Argentine knew his province, had crossed the Plate, visited the Mount, and shuddered at the idea of leaving the "recado" and his "maté" to risk the dangers of the deep; besides, a very limited supply of geographical lore and a very heavy dosing of local prejudice, still extant in 95/100 of the population in spite of the advanced condition of educational development, were quite sufficient to meet his intellectual wants, and the horizon seemed to him the brink of the abyss, the circumference of the pancake beyond which there was nothing. Time, the great regulator of human affairs, has advanced a few units since then, and a gradual moral advance has been the steady companion of new ideas that crossed the ocean and have settled in several parts of this rising continent. Nearly all the capitals of South American States are foci of these ideas, which radiate around and are lost in the pampas, llanos and virgin forests of America. Twenty-five years have wrought a change; the moneyed aristocracy, both educated in foreign ideas and nursed in foreign refinement, saw at a glance that Europe was the natural receptacle of large revenues, which could not be spent in South America, where wants are few and comforts, outside Buenos Aires, Rio, Santiago, etc., are nominal, and can only be classified according to individual discrimination.

The Argentine colony in Paris has been growing in a steady ratio, quite proportional to the increase of cattle in the "rodeos" of this province; a very bad year, heavy mortality amongst the cattle, heavy export of dry hides, stems the growth of the colony abroad and keeps more people on the "recado" at home. It is something wonderful how social development of this nature, even high-life, is so very intimately connected with the corral and the 'recado.' Whilst a very prosperous year in the Plate means an addition of several conspicuous members to the fashionable Parisian colony, and an influx of fifty thousand Italians into the country, with new ideas about living and working, a bad season tends to maintain the old characteristic features of the country, depriving it of the emigrants and reducing the efflux of the native element to the fashionable capitals of Europe. The price of wool and hides here and of bread in Europe regulates the destinies of the Plate.

Strange to say, foreigners generally like this country to such an extent that they seldom abandon it; their absence from it is generally only temporary. As much can be said of the (Argentine) foreigner in Paris; he likes the boulevard, and although Parisian civilization does not excel that of his own country, since the Plate is wider than the Seine, the republic ten times larger than France, and all Argentines eat meat, which is not the case with the Gaul, he generally manages to settle down at a convenient distance from sites of amusements and becomes a good bourgeois, in spite of his innate dislike to all castes and an inordinate desire to baffle the laws of gravity and to rise to the aristocratical "quartier."

In connection with the Argentine-Parisian colony, we must refer to its official organs La Revue Sud Americaine and La Plata. To judge by the general tenor of the articles, the editors evidently express a manifest desire to remove many erroneous appreciations in the French capital. It appears that the gauchos exhibited at the Exhibition have left a very deep impression on the French, who, thoroughly convinced that they do not wear feathers and skins, cannot help comparing them to the Turcos, their prototypes. The "poncho" and "chiripa" find no favor amongst the French; they fail to see the beauty of the costume and they commit the unpardonable error of believing that the inhabitants of this country do not sleep in beds and live in a domestic system approaching Mme. Kaulha's, that they never use spoons or forks, and know not what pantoleons and coats are. These misrepresentations are very general, since it is a well-known fact that men and women at 2000 leagues distance generalize immediately: A gaucho comes from Argentina, sleeps on a "recado," sips "maté" and is an Arab; consequence all Argentines are gauchos.

The other day we reproduced an article from a London colleague on "La Plata;" whilst referring to the banquet at the inauguration, the word banquet was "quoted" and special attention was drawn to the fact that tallow candles illuminated the scene. A sober-minded West-end man reading this account would very naturally think if the Aimara and Puelche, if a philologist, of the Comanches and Natches, if a man of the world. The two Parisian periodicals will work a most beneficial effect in Paris, where people know less of this country than in England, and less of geography than any other nation, and are naturally biassed by the accounts of a late Consul, who represented the republic as an Indian tribe, dressed in the garments of French cooks and concierges.

CANADIAN LAND SPECULATION.

The financial papers of London, in reviewing the money market for the past year, point to its two great and marked features—namely, electric light and land speculation. Millions and millions were lost in the twelve months in both these speculations, the more disastrous being the electric light, the shares of the various companies having been pushed up to the clouds, and now being nearly all at a heavy discount.

In the land business the losses have not been so severe, although many of the London writers think that Manitoba and Kansas are played out. We, here in the Plate, with all our purchases and sales of land, are entirely innocent of the gigantic business carried on in London last year. Farms in Manitoba have been sold and resold three times on the same day, and at prices ranging from seven to ten pats. per acre.

The speech of the Chairman of the Hudson Bay Company is well worthy the perusal of those who take an interest in such subjects, and the Duke of Manchester, who figured as chairman of one of the great Canadian land companies, has had to resign, which brought the shares down at a sweep.

Our colleague, the Money Market Review, in discussing this subject, which has some individual importance here, says:—

"In relation to the colossal scale of the operations contemplated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, those of the Canada North-West Land Company shrink into secondary rank, yet the capital of the latter company is nominally as much as £3,000,000—a sum which, eveu in these days of grandiose schemes, is surely worth looking after and conserving. In presence of the facts that the shares of this company, with £3 paid, are barely saleable in the market at a discount of one-third, and that there remains a liability upon them of £7 per share, it is not surprising that the shareholders betray signs of anxiety—a feeling sharpened, no doubt, by the withdrawal from the Chairmanship and Board of the Duke of Manchester. The Duke's name, placed at the front of the undertaking, contributed largely, no doubt, to acquire for it such degree of prestige as it at one time held, yet his Grace has not responded to the invitation which we addressed to him last week to explain the motives of his withdrawal. The question is being freely asked, what is the financial position of this company, and have all the calls that have been made been paid? These questions are of such vital importance, in particular to English shareholders, in whose interests we are chiefly concerned, that it need not excite surprise if more be soon heard of the suggestion, already canvassed amongst a number of them, that it is very desirable to hold a meeting with a view to discuss the general position of the company.

"And now we will proceed to cite some of the newspaper and other accounts which have come to hand within the last few days. See what the Times says in its impression of December 27th, in the form of a letter dated, Philadelphia, December 12th, from its own correspondent:—

"'There is a great deal of British attention and also much British capital given to investments in American lands. Yet only few of the investors ever cross the sea to discover what they are getting for their money, or, if they do make inquiry, it is usually in the most superficial manner. If the investment result in a fiasco the Americans are often blamed, when a closer attention by the investor would have saved his money, and when, probably, the only parties concerned are his own countrymen. I know of several cases where Englishmen, mainly under English guidance, have put their money into American enterprises that prudent Americans themselves would not touch. The ownership of land has its attractions, and a telegram just received from Toronto, describing the unfortunate results of a recent ill-advised speculation of that character, will serve to point a moral. Some time ago a company with £3,000,000 capital was formed in England, with head-quarters at Toronto, for the purpose of buying five millions of acres of land from the Canadian Pacific Railway. In the directory, among others, were the Duke of Manchester, Lord Elphinstone, Sir Rowland Blennerhasset and Sir George Warrender, and the whole of the capitol was subscribed, £3 per share being paid in. The Duke was the chairman, and was recently in Canada, but his visit mainly seemed to produce a retirement from the chairmanship in favour of Lord Elphinstone, and this, with other circumstances, had such an effect upon the shareholders that they have for some time been trying to get out of the company, the feeling on the subject causing a general decline in the shares, so that now, with £3 paid in and £1 more called for and payable February 1st, the present quotation is but 45s. per share. The Toronto telegram states that there is great pressure to sell the stock, with much criticism of the management, while the circumstances of many of the shareholders are such that they cannot meet the February instalment.'

"These remarks, it will be observed, refer chiefly to the Canada North-West Land Company, a project formed out of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company."

In this gigantic land speculation, not only the railway companies, but even the Government of the country entered, and although 60,000 immigrants settled in the great North-West in 1882, still, it has been found impossible to sustain the prices in the Canadian land market.

The following items respecting one portion of this great Canadian land bubble may interest our readers:—

"The Dominion Government, some dozen years ago, purchased from the Hudson's Bay Company the North-Territory, which, until then, had been kept as a preserve for wild animals and their furs. It is not possible to say how much land is owned by the Hudson's Bay Company, nor how much is possessed by the Dominion Government. It was lately stated at a meeting of the City Council of Montreal that the Canada Pacific Railway, when completed, would be 4,000 miles long. I also read in recent Canada papers that the survey of 500 townships had just been completed—that is, laid out into sections—and that some 900 more townships had had their exterior lines surveyed, and would be completed by May next; Five per cent. of the expenses of survey and one-twentieth of the land surveyed (sections 8 and 26 in every township) fall to the Hudson's Bay Company—in other words, it pays the cost of surveying its share of the land. The 1,400 townships as above, represent about 35,840,000 acres, and, as a township, contains 25,600 acres (40 square miles) and a section 640 acres, and as 1,280 acres in every township, when surveyed, belong to the Hudson's Bay Compaay, 1,792,000 acres of the above 1,400 townships will be the property of the Hudson's Bay Company."

Our chief object in calling attention to these matters is to show by comparison how very safe we are here in the Plate, and how much sounder is our progress than that of other lands, whose very immigration returns are purely artificial and cannot be relied on."

BRAZIL AND THE PLATE.

The Jornal do Comercio, which is the first and most influential paper in Brazil, publishes in a recent number a very able political retrospect for the past year. It is pleasant to find in this paper the most friendly expressions towards this country, and that the great noise and hubbub made about the Misiones Question in our city papers has found no echo in the great capital of Brazil. Our colleague says:—

"Brazil does not consider that she is on the eve of a war. An illustrious Argentine Dr Don Nicolas Avellaneda, who resided for the last 2 months of the past year in this city, had ample opportunity to study our sentiments and aspirations, and must doubtless have taken back with him to his prosperous country the gratifying conviction that, neither amongst our statesmen, or any class of our society, does there exist any hostile feeling towards any of our neighbours.

"The great American Empire is just now preoccupied with interests of the highest moment, which demand all its energies and heavy sacrifices, and no one has any right to complain of her developing her elements of defence within the limits which military necessities impose on all nations.

"If an armed peace is the worst kind of war, and we are now involved in something very like it, the Empire is least of all responsible for this deplorable state of things, so injurious for the wealth and well-being of two nations whose vast territories and fertile and varied zones afford field for populations 100 times in excess of their present inhabitants, who are unable to cultivate the immense extent of soil.

"In proof of its ardent desire to settle its Boundary dispute with the Argentine Republic in a friendly way, the Imperial Government, we learn, proposed in the middle of last year to revise the Treaty of December 14th 1857. This proposal is still under consideration, and it is announced that the Argentine Government is about to send, as Special Envoy to Brazil, Dr Vicente V Quesada, editor of the Nueva Revista of Buenos Aires, a writer well known to hold strong opinions on the question at issue.

"Dr. Quesada, in a long series of articles recently published, and like other statesmen of his country, declares that Brazil has usurped the seven Missions on the Uruguay, including Uruguayana, Itaqui, San Borja, Alegrete, and many other Brazilian towns and villages, and also maintaining that Brazil has no right whatever to the river Quarahim as the northern boundary of Banda Oriental, on the ground that this river is in the zone that belongs to the Argentine Republic. The diplomat will probably not care to cling to his opinions as an editor, but will show the same spirit of honourable conciliation as the Imperial Government. This is the fervent wish of Brazil, and the industrious classes and true patriots of the Argentine Republic cannot desire otherwise.

"The supreme necessity of Brazil is a lasting and honourable peace. What better gift can we wish our countrymen, on the threshold of the New Year; and may the end of this new cycle of life leave us the precious legacy of cordial and lasting friendship in America and outside America."

"SARMIENTO-ISM."

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir,

I have been asked by several countrymen of mine lately if no further notice is to be taken of Sarmiento's recent vulgar diatribes in the Nacional—first, against the Irish community as a body, and afterwards against those universally respected ladies who, in the discharge of their self-imposed life's mission "to do good by stealth and blush to find it fame," have come out to Buenos Ayres to devote themselves to works of charity and benevolence, and against whom it was reserved for a valiant Argentine "General" (bless the mark!) to do what, in the bitterest days of anti-Catholicism in England, was never even whispered—attribute mercenary motives to either English, Irish, or any other nuns we know of. The utter absurdity of the insinuation is its best refutation. Indeed, I am not quite sure if too much importance has not been already given to the senilities of a man already too much discredited to merit even contempt.

The Nacional, whose boast is that it was "founded by Velez-Sarsfield," the descendant of an Irishman, is perhaps the only newspaper in Buenos Ayres that would venture to give circulation to Sarmiento's scurrilities; by doing so and by identifying itself with his ravings, it has forfeited whatever character it had still to lose as an organ of public opinion.

Let us, however, examine more closely who and what this idol of brass, on a pedestal of the very commonest clay, really is, in order to estimate at their real value his opinions, either of the Irish community, or upon any other subject. I know not if history dates far enough back to trace the entire career of this worthy, from his first to his second childhood, or whether he was, like one of Byron's heroes,

"Born in a garret, in some kitchen bred."

At any rate many of us can remember his "first appearance" in any public position of importance, as Governor of San Juan, nearly a quarter of a century ago; and as, since then, his "personalidad" has been prominently before the public—metaphorically and physically—we cannot go far astray in tracing his erratic career.

His motto appears to have always been "fame at any price"—no matter what kind of fame—"utter annihilation rather than be unnoticed altogether." As Schoolmaster, Governor of a distant Province, Minister to Washington, President of the Republic, Chairman of the Education Society, Minister of—any portfolio given to him—Editor of a decaying newspaper, down to the mastery of an obscure Freemasons' Lodge, to which he has last fallen, Sarmiento's hand has been against every man, and every man's hand against him. He seems unable to exist except in an atmosphere of strife and discord. The "chartered libertine" of a low-class literature—a mongrel Spanish invented by himself—the "stormy petrel" of politics, a pretended leader without a following, suspected by all parties, respected by none—a very "bull in a china shop" in matters of Education, as he probably is in any polished society. So puffed out with his own conceit and vanity that nothing is sacred from his pamphleteering craze; the death of Darwin or of Dr. Mendez serves equally, for him, to indulge his love of platitudes, or of forced or false sentiment.

The unbroken stream of turgid writings from his pen, during the last 20 years, reminds one of the foul discharge from the rear of some wash-house or manufactory, contaminating all that it touches—the one as unfit to appease a literary, as the other would be to allay a physical thirst. Of his military deeds, and glory, I refrain from comment. Are they not recorded in the pages of the Mosquito? The battles that he has directed and won, the horses shot under him, and the many wounds received in defending his country's liberty and prestige—are not these too well known to require comment here?

In San Juan, aided and abetted by a "distinguished" Irishman ("Major" Rickard, R.A.) "arcades ambo," he was more remarkable for a disregard of central authority than for any other ability.

As Minister to Washington, he contrived to imbibe, and has since endeavoured to introduce here, all the vicious characteristics of the American system of education.

As President of this Republic, he has done more to poison the very sources of popular suffrage, and render popular election of future Presidents impossible, than a century's labour will neutralize.

As temporary Minister of the Interior (under Avellaneda) he contrived to embroil the entire Republic in less than a month, besides precipitating the deplorable occurrences of June, 1880, in this city.

In short, reviewing his entire career, I cannot help looking upon him as one of the worst "calamidades" with which this country has been inflicted. There only remains for him now to publish the "secrets" (if there be any) of the ancient fraternity of which he has lately become an ally, and this I look forward with some confidence to his perpetrating for his next catch-penny pamphlet.

Such is a brief but incomplete sketch of the Great Man whose calumnies of Irishmen and Irish nuns have recently disgusted everybody who has had the patience to read them—natives as well as foreigners. If the Irish community, as a body, exercised or even sought for the political weight to which they are entitled by their wealth and influence, or if even they would but condescend to belong to one or other of the Masonic Lodges established here, Sarmiento would be amongst the first to court their assistance, toady them both individually and collectively, and use their shoulders as an aid to mount to some new eminence not yet scaled, or some old one from which he has been ignominiously cast; but as Irishmen, in town and country, prefer to work silently in aiding the material progress of the country of their adoption, leaving politics to those whose profession it is, they were considered, by Sarmiento, a safe target against which to hurl his rancorous [shafts with impunity. Instead of entertaining other feelings, let us join his numerous friends in wishing him a happy return of his last birthday, and merely add with the Yankee 'Let him R. I. P.'

Yours, an amused but not indignant

Eirenach

B. Aires, 19th Feb., 1883.

CONSUL BAKER ON THE RECENT EXHIBITION.

OUTLOOK OF THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

In view of this very creditable exposition, now just closed, a few conclusions in regard to the industrial outlook of the Argentine Republic suggest themselves:

1. That the people, becoming more and more disgusted with revolutions and political emeutes, which do not "pay," are now seriously applying themselves to the development of the country, to the production of wealth, and to the prosecution of the arts of peace.

2. That the leading industry of the Argentine Republic is and for years to come must be the breeding of cattle and sheep, the value of this interest in the production of hides, wool, jerked beef, animal oils, bones and bone-ash, hair, &c., standing for about two-thirds of the exports of the country.

3. That the agricultural industry of the nation is yet in its infancy, the virgin soil of the vast pampas having as yet only here and there been touched by the plow. This can only be developed as the country becomes more densely settled, and as arable land grows to be too valuable to be used for grazing purposes. The rich soil and the climate extending through three zones combine to make a large portion of the national domain peculiarly adapted for every variety of vegetable production, and within the last three years the country has not only produced its own breadstuff, but has had a surplus of wheat and maize to export to European markets.

4. That the mineral resources of the country are rich and valuable, the sierras of the interior provinces containing almost every variety of ore; but as yet there has been no complete scientific survey of those regions, and there is no accurate knowledge of their extent or richness. Valuable machinery has in the last year been sent forward to some of these mines, and some is now in full operation, but as yet there are few visible results. The failure thus far to discover coal in the country—albeit there is a standing offer of $25,000 on the part of the general Government for the discovery—is a serious drawback to the development of the mining industries. The recent opening of petroleum deposits in the provinces of Mendoza and Jujuy, and the discovery of kaolin—of which porcelain is made—in Cordoba, are valuable acquisitions to the wealth of the nation, and with the extension of the railroad system they may be expected to enter into the markets of the world.

5. That the inexhaustible forests of the upper provinces and the Gran Chaco contain a large variety of most valuable woods, rivaling those of Central America and Brazil in the richness of their colors and in the polish which they take; and, if proper means were adopted, they would become at once—as they must be ultimately—a mine of wealth to the Argentine Republic.

6. That the manufactures of the country are far in advance of those of the other nations of South America, and, as this Continental Exposition has proved, already show considerable development in many important lines of goods, giving promise at the same time that in many other growing industries and handicrafts the Argentine Republic will soon be quite independent of foreign nations. These manufactures are confined almost exclusively to B. Aires, and with a few exceptions are in the hands of the foreign element, which, coming from the workshops of Europe, is composed of thorough artisans and mechanics.

7. That, while the thirteen interior provinces show nothing in the manufacturing line, unless we except the time-honored vacuña ponchos, or shawls, and coarse, hand-made cloths, there are now being developed in some of them most valuable industries, which in the near future must tell in the catalogue of the nation's resources, and add greatly to the productive wealth of the country. I refer to the production of wine in the grape-growing provinces of Mendoza, San Juan, Catamarca, and Rioja, the quality of which is far superior to that which is imported, and the quantity of which, so soon as there shall be railway communication with Buenos Aires, will be sufficient not only to supply the home demand, but leave a large surplus for export. I refer also to the sugar industry of the provinces of Tucuman and Santiago del Estero, which is now assuming immense proportions, and the product of which is already almost sufficient to supply the requirements of the country. Besides these are the growing industries of leather making, of silk culture, of flax fibers, of coffee production, &c., all of them now promising most favorable results.

Altogether the outlook of the Argentine Republic is full of encouragement not merely from an industrial, but from a political point of view. It is beginning to be understood that national progress and the production of national wealth are not the outgrowth of periodical revolutionary disturbances, but are the result of the steady and systematic development of a country's natural resources. These in the Argentine Republic are immense, and if the Government is true to itself, and does not strain its financial credit or cripple its energies by embarking in schemes of internal improvement which had best be left to private enterprise, this country has a grand future of prosperity in store for it.

THE NEW TRAMWAY.

The following description of Hallidie's Patent Cable Tram System will much interest us all, as we believe, before many months are over our head, this new system will be adopted in this city:—

The Cable Tramway System has been invented and improved by Mr. A. S. Hallidie, of San Francisco, and is secured for the United Kingdom by grants of Letters Patent.

The system is adapted to all kinds of tram roads, whether on the level, in straight lengths or curves, or where the grades, however irregular, are so steep as to make the use of horses, or any other kind of traction, impossible.

The system consists of an endless wire rope placed in a tube below the surface of the ground, between the rails or granite track, and kept in position by means of sheaves, upon and beneath which the rope is kept in motion by a stationery engine, fixed at either end, or at any convenient point along the line, the power being transmitted from the motor to the rope by means of grip pulleys, and from the rope to the cars on the street by means of a gripping attachment fixed to the car by a steel bar, and which passes through a narrow slot in the upper side of the tube.

It presents no impediment to ordinary travel. The rope is grasped and released at pleasure by a peculiar gripping device attached to the passenger car and controlled by a man in charge. The car is more smoothly started than by horses; more easily controlled than by any other system; can be made to stop instantly in case of danger or other necessity; and when arrested, stops dead—convenience and perfect safety on entering or leaving the car being thus assured to the passengers.

A description of this system, as in use by the Clay Street Hill Tramway, of San Francisco, will best explain the modus operandi.

Clay Street is a central street in the City of San Francisco, and for a considerable distance near the lower terminus of the road is very densely populated; the street is only 49 feet wide from house to house, and between the side walks is occupied by two lines of gas pipe, one line of water pipe, a street sewer, and at the cross streets by water cisterns.

The general arrangement of the system in use by the Clay Street Hill Tramway is as follows:—An endless steel wire rope, 3 inches in circumference, 11,000 feet long, is stretched the whole distance, lying in iron tubes, supported every 39 feet on 11-inch sheaves. This rope is supported at every change of angle at the lower crossings on sheaves 4 feet in diameter, passing around a horizontal sheave 8 feet in diameter at the lower end of the line, and at the engine house around two angle sheaves, each 8 feet in diameter, which lead the rope on the grip pulleys, also 8 feet in diameter, which are driven by one 14 by 28 engine. The steam is furnished by one boiler 6 feet by 54 inches, using 3,700 pounds of coal per day. They have also duplicate engine and boiler, which are held in reserve.

The patent grip pulley, being furnished at their circumference with jaws that grip and release the rope automatically by the pressure of the rope in the jaws, prevents the rope from slipping, and being set in motion by the engine, actuates the endless rope while travelling up one tube and down the other.

In addition to the sheaves that support the rope in the tubes, at the upper side of each crossing, where the incline makes an angle upwards, there are sheaves in the tubes that keep the rope down and from striking the upper part of the tube.

It will be understood that there is an opening in the upper side of the tube. This opening runs the entire length of each tube, forming a long slot seven-eighths of an inch wide. This slot is not immediately over the centre of the tube, but on one side, to keep sand and dirt from falling on the rope, to clear the upper sheaves, and enable the foot of the gripping attachment to pass by, and under the upper sheaves, and over the lower sheaves in the tube.

The connection between the cars on the street and the travelling rope is made by means of this gripping attachment, which is hereinaftar described. The closed cars are made to seat 14 passengers, and the open ones 16, but not seldom as many as 44 have ridden in the car, and 26 on the open car—70 in all; and on the roads with broad-gauge, larger cars have, in one load, an open and closed car, carried as many as 160 passengers. It is true they were crowded, but this is almost always the case on holidays. The traction open car, with the gripping connection is attached to the passenger car firmly, so that there can be no danger of accident. The passenger car is amply provided with brakes. In addition to the usual car brake, there is another attachment, operated in the same manner as ordinary brakes, which forces a broad band of wood down on each track immediately under the car. Strong iron drags are provided, so that if an accident should occur in going up hill, they will immediately catch and prevent the car from going backwards. When it is necessary to back down hill, these drags are raised up out of the way by the conductor.

The open car is also provided with powerful brakes. The open and closed cars are connected with a suitable coupling, so that the weight of the car going down comes on the rope, and is utilised to draw up the car on the other track. The brakes are not usually employed when coming down, unless it is necessary to stop, as the car runs down with the same speed as the rope, as long as the gripping attachment is in connection with the rope.

A YEAR'S EMIGRATION FROM LIVERPOOL.

The returns of immigration from the Mersey during the past year were yesterday issued by the officials at Liverpool. Although the departures during 1881 were unprecedentedly large, they have been exceeded by last year's figures to the extent of 5,489. The grand total of departures during 1882 is 234,302, against 228,813 in the preceding year. The great bulk of the passengers went to the United States, though to that country the departures were not so numerous as in 1881. The increase is due to the emigration to Canada, which last year was greater than in any previous period. The returns just published are remarkable for the enormous increase last year shows in the emigration of English people. In the case of all other nationalities there was a decrease last year when contrasted with 1881, but in the case of English people the figures for 1882 were no fewer than 17,197 over those of 1881. The following are the detailed returns:—

In 1882 522 vessels took their departure from Liverpool to the United States, with 188,998 passengers on board, of whom 88,313 were English, 866 Scotch, 17,722 Irish, 81,164 foreigners, and 933 whose nationalities were not given; to Canada, 129 vessels, with 40,927 passengers, 27,203 being English, 265 Scotch, 576 Irish, and 12,883 foreigners; to Australia, 16 vessels, with 457 passengers, 337 being English, 13 Scotch, 84 Irish, 17 foreigners, and 6 not known; to New South Wales, 1 vessel, with 2 passengers: to South America, 95 vessels, with 1,450 passengers, 471 being English, 21 Scotch, 150 Irish, 60 foreigners, and 748 not known; to the East Indies, 97 ships, with 1,303 passengers 82 being English, and 1221 not known. In the under-mentioned cases the nationalities of the emigrants were not given:—To the West Indies, 38 vessels, with 251 passengers; to China 36 vessels, with 179 passengers; to South Africa, 8 vessels, with 31 passengers; and to the West Coast of Africa, 59 vessels, with 704 passengers. The totals of the different nationalities are as under:—

116,406 English, against 99,227 in 1881, or an increase in 1882 of 17,197; Scotch, 1,167 against 1,822 in 1881, or a decrease of 657; Irish 18,532 against 21,190 in 1881 or a decrease of 2,658; foreigners 94,124, against 101,150 in 1881, or a decrease of 7,026; and 4,075 whose nationalities were not known, against 5,424, or a decrease of 1,349. The smallness of the number of the Scotch emigrants is explained by the fact that the facilities for going direct from Scotland to the various foreign ports are now much greater than formerly.

A recent exchange from London remarks as follows:—"Her Majesty is receiving an accession of grandchildren. An interesting event has just occurred (within a year of the last) in the family of the Duke of Connaught; another—about a month later, is looked for—in that of the Duke of Albany; and yet another in that of the Duke of Edinburgh."

EDITOR'S TABLE

Hurrah! Another English steamer—the Nyanza, from New York, 1,753 tons register, drawing 18½ feet—entered the Boca yesterday although the tide was low. She anchored alongside the Kovno. The Boca for ever!

Sheepfarmers yesterday kept their gaze so firmly fixed upon the sky, that shouts or laughter, sighs or cries, could never take away their eye. It looked like rain all day, and many subscribers whose prayers are generally rather short, prayed long and sincerely that the saving fluid might come down immediately, if not sooner. There will be a change in the Moon to-morrow, and there is every probability of a downpour.

The letter in another column headed "Sarmientoism" is severe, but true. If the Grand Master take the laughable hint of our correspondent, and publish the secrets (if any) of the Freemasons—a by no means impossible contingency—it will immortalize his name more than any other act of his life, and be the greatest lark of the Nineteenth Century.

There is most distressing news from Abysinnia. King John lately ordered a new throne, from an English upholsterer in Aden, and paid over £6,000 for it, in advance, (What a thoroughly esteemed subscriber His Majesty would be!) but robbers attacked the caravan and stole the throne and 600 crosses of the "Seal of Solomon," an order which King John considers in no way inferior to the Garter.

The purveyor of the steamer Taraguy won the whole 20,000 pats prize in the Buenos Aires Lottery on Monday. We hear that this gentleman is wonderfully lucky in the Lottery way, and attribute it to the fact that the Taraguy is an Irish steamer, built in Belfast.

A pic-nic basket (empty) with a double tin cover, lies at the Scotch Church since the recent pic-nic at Lomas. If the owner will kindly send his address to the Rev. James Smith, Scotch Church, it will be forwarded to him.

We hear from a Mendocino resident that that province is the cheapest and best in the whole Republic to live in. The moment one crosses the frontier, the scenery becomes like the South of Ireland and the centre of France. Our informant often takes his family (four persons) for an outing on Sunday in the lovely suburbs of Mendoza, and the cost, including carriage to and fro, and excellent breakfast and dinner, is only two Bolivians for the day—Forty paper dollars!! Hear this, unfortunate denizens of the Capital. The thermal springs in the province are innumerable, and the few Germans up there declare that their medicinal virtues far surpass the best of the mineral waters in Fatherland. We have said it; Mendoza is the Coming Province.

We recommend our High Life subscribers to call at the Minerva in Calle Florida, and inspect the new steel monograms which M. Durand has just "lances." Also the stunning Parisian "novedades" in wedding cards.

President Roca, Dr Irigoyen, Mr. Dering, H. M. Chargé d'Affaires, the Lord Mayor, Messrs Anchorena, Coghlan, de Witte and other gentlemen went to have a look at the Boca. Mr Huergo took them up and down the channel in the little steamer Riachuelo, and heaved the lead to show the President that there is always a depth of 19 to 22 feet, and, that most of the ocean steamers can enter at any time. The river was not very calm, and some of the distinguished party became so unmistakably squeamish, that Mr. Huergo returned to shore with them at 2 o'clock p.m.

Our nice, little, and well-edited contemporary, the Mundo Artistico, makes its subscribers a present this week of a first-rate portrait of Wagner. The conqueror of Waterloo would have liked the great musician hugely, as he has a nose. Such a nose! Beats the Iron Duke's hollow. No man with a snub nose ever attained greatness, in war, music, or anything else; yet some very second-chop people have splendid noses. Such are Dame Nature's whims.

We call the attention of Junior Clerks to an advertisement in another column by X. X. X.—a good opening for a smart lad.

Congress will be asked to pay the deficit on the Exhibition—a paltry million paper dollars. Of course it will be paid, and it is but fair that it should. The private parties who advanced money for an enterprise that was of vast benefit to the country must not be allowed to suffer for their patriotism.

The public should purchase no Lottery tickets except those of the Capital. The other night the police pounced on the stock in trade of the 'Loteria Argentina,' in a house in Calle Venezuela, when the drawing was going on, without an Escribano or any other legal witness being present.

More Protection! The Industrial Club wants the Government to frank its letters to the Interior of the Republic. What an idea! The Press of the country may, without vanity, consider itself of as much use to the commonwealth as the I.C., yet it has to pay postage.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the accession to the Tiara of His Holiness Pope Leon XIII. The Nuncio, Monsignor Mattera, entertained Dr. Irigoyen, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and a distinguished company at dinner, in honour of the occasion.

The Diario declares that the Riachuelo is again exhaling the perfumes of the Antipodes of Arabia. The Municipality has ordered a few quarts of the water to be analysed. Oh! Gemini! This is the old story over again. Mr Puigari analysed the precious stuff a couple of months ago, yet 'here we are again!' As the clown says on Boxing Night.

Business premises are getting terribly scarce and dear in the centre of the city. We know a man, and have him marked as a future subscriber for Daily and Packet, who has worn out three pairs of Bernasconi's best boots in walking up and down the streets looking for suitable premises, yet he cannot find them, although willing to pay any rent short of Tittlebat Titmouse's income.

We received the following terrible news from Gualeguay yesterday:—"The pest of 'grano malo' is very bad about here, especially in the fine grass camps about the Clé. Cows, horses, sheep, and last, though not least, human beings, are carried off by it. The only remedy, if taken in time, is to burn it with a red-hot iron. The Municipality will not allow any cattle from the infected estancias into the 'mataderos.'"

Some idea of the enormous expense of the Belt trial can be formed from the fees paid to the defendant's three counsel alone. Mr. C. Russell's brief was marked 200 guineas. Mr. Webster's 150 guineas, and Mr. Lewis Coward's 100 guineas, exclusive of "refreshers," which were 50 guineas a day for the leader, 40 guineas for Mr Webster, and 20 guineas for the junior, to whom Mr. Webster paid such a flattering public compliment. The trial lasted forty-three days, and the aggregate fees amounted to 5,180 guineas. The jury, by arrangement, received a guinea a day.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

Montevideo, Feb. 19th.

To the Editor of the Standard,

Sir,

The attention of the Committee of Management of the British Hospital has been called to two paragraphs published in your editions of the 11th and 17th February in which you state that you had received a communication conveying grave charges against the management of the Hospital (the details of which you do not publish,) upon which you base and publish conclusions of your own. The Committee of Management have not received any complaint from any patient nor are they aware that any patient has left the Hospital on account of the bad care and attention experienced there.

They now request that you will at once publish full details of the communication that you say you have received, in order that they may know what accusations are brought against them, and so that they may be enabled either to prove the unfounded character of these charges, or, should it be found on inquiry, that there were just grounds for complaint, to take immediate steps to prevent a repetition of same in future.

I am, Sir,
Yours obediently,
Edmund Monson
President of the Committee of Management of the British Hospital.

P.S.—I shall be obliged by your publishing the foregoing letter in your first edition.

Ed. Note—In presence of the foregoing letter, we request our informant to supply us with the particulars asked for and to give us permission to publish the name of the patient removed.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES.

The following translation of a letter which the Messrs. Fairbanks have received from their Russian agent, J. Block, of Moscow and St. Petersburg, is of interest to all American manufacturers:

Grand Russian R. R. Co., Nicolai Line, St. Petersburg.
Directors' Office, May 3, 1879.

Messrs. Fairbanks & Co.:

I beg to inform you that our line is supplied with many Fairbanks' Scales, of which some are already since 1857, and the rest since 1862, in constant use. Many of them are exposed to the open air the whole year round, without any protection against the bad weather. All these scales, without exception, have given entire satisfaction, and, according to the opinion of the station-masters, supersede in accuracy, easy method of weighing heavy loads, and chiefly in durability, all the other systems of scales.

Having twenty-two years' experience with the Fairbanks' Scales, the superintendent's office of the road can unhesitatingly recommend them as especially practically adapted to railroad use.

(Signed,) Koenig, Director of the Nicolai R.R., Engineer and Actual Counsellor of State.

Note.—The Nicolai Line is the oldest in Russia, and was built by the Emperor Nicolas as a grand Military road between Moscow and St Petersburg. It is upwards of four hundred miles long.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Well-known all over the world for the prompt cure of the following diseases:

Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Inflammation of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, and also for the relief of those suffering from Chronic Consumption even in its Most Advanced Stage.

In the various affections of the Throat and Lungs, its employment in the first stage is always sure to arrest the disease, which makes Dr. AYER'S Cherry Pectoral a most desirable medicine to have always at hand. Those who have used this medicine knowing well its efficacy, declare they are never without it at home and never fail to recommend it to their friends suffering from any of the above diseases.

Medical men who know well the formula by which it is compounded, and the beneficial effects from its employment, never fail to prescribe Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It is also frequently recommended by those of the Clergy who have used it. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is also remarkable in its Sanatory effects, arresting as it is sure to do, the ravages of epidemic affections of the Throat and Lungs, thus making it the most efficacious medicine which can be employed.

The Rev. Mr. Smith

Testimonial Fund.

At the General Meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Buenos Ayres, held on the 31st January, 1883, attention was called to the near approach of the time when the Rev. Mr. James Smith's official connection with the Church and people of Buenos Ayres would cease. The propriety of some manifestation being made by the Community on this occasion, to mark its appreciation of a life's work, having been mooted and unanimously recognised, it was resolved that such manifestation should assume the form of a pecuniary gift to the Rev. Gentleman, and a Committee was at the same time nominated with the view of carrying such resolution into effect.

In pursuance of this resolution, the Committee beg to inform the Community who sympathise with them in the matter, that Subscription Lists for signature will be found at the undermentioned places.

Other Lists will be forwarded to some of the outlying districts of Buenos Ayres and the Oriental Republic. Members residing at a distance, desirous of taking part in this manifestation, and who may not have access to any of these List-sheets, can obtain them upon application to the Honorary Secretary, David Methven jun., Calle Reconquista 89, who will also be ready to receive any particular subscription towards the same object up to March 15th, prox.

February 20th, 1883

Patacon	25.01
Cedulas A	100¼
Cedulas E	84¾
National Bank Shares	106
National 5 o/o	70½

Several small amounts of gold were sold this morning at 25,01 for cash; there are many sellers in the market. Condors and Sterling continue in demand. The exchange market rules very flat and rates are nominal; very little doing.

The Cedula market recovered some of its lost firmness to-day. A few thousand Series A changed hands at 100¾ and 100¼; operations in this Series have fallen off much. Operations in Series E for cash were very limited at 84¾. Twenty thousand were sold for the end of February at 84¾ and as much for the end of March at 85¼. Fifty thousand were sold for the end of April at 85½, and 20,000 for the end of May at 85¾. Operations during official hours amounted to $124,000. All along a bearish movement was noted in the speculation of Series E, but the market is firm and prices are rising.

A change came over the spirit of the share bulls this morning. Operators who bought yesterday sold to-day and effected a general fall in prices. There appears to be no fixed policy amongst operators, except to sell at a profit of one or two per cent when they can; there is no determined movement to bear or to bull the stock, and operations shew slight fluctuations. Only 30 shares changed hands for cash at 106, whilst 1,250 were sold for the end of the month; rates opened at 107, fell to 106½ and closed at 106½. Speculation for the end of March is assuming proportions, 650 shares were sold cum dividend at 108 and 107½; the market opened at 108 fell slightly, but recovered and closed at the opening rate. Three hundred shares were sold ex dividend at 103 and 102¾. Over 2,000 shares were sold during official hours and prices, although they shew a drop for all dates, are nevertheless firm under the circumstances.

A few thousand National 5 o/o were sold today at 70½. The Finance Office issues very little of this stock at present.

The Board of the Provincial Bank has finally decided to create a special office for legal proceedings of the establishment. This office will comprise no less than three lawyers, three procuradores, one notary and five clerks. The creation of this office is an ominous sign and the presence of so many lawyers means a serious business in the future. The salaries to be paid in this office have not yet been fixed, but the lawyers will receive very handsome emoluments in view of the immense business that will be thrown on their shoulders.

It is reported that Mr. Rostand has requested Dr. Hugo Bunge to represent him in the 100 million dollar claims made against him.

The Board of Health of the Boca has forwarded a note to the Lord Mayor on the very melancholy state of public health in the Boca and its vicinity. The waters of the Riachuelo are in a terrible state and fetid smells are as bad as ever. Antiseptics are much wanted in the Boca.

Good wools in the markets continue in active demand, but these qualities are becoming scarce. Sheepskins are firm, especially those from the Southern districts. The arrivals of wool in the Once and South continue on the usual scale.

Telegrams from Bordeaux state that the public sales of sheepskins closed yesterday Over 2,000 bales were offered and nearly all sold. Prices as compared with those of the previous public sales, show a rise of 2 centimes per kilo.

The port of Ensenada, according to Engineer Waldorp's calculations and proposals, will cost no less than $10,200,000. This is only one-half the cost of the Madero scheme, and the Department of Engineers of the Province recommend the approval of Mr. Waldorp's scheme.

The National Government has granted to the River Plate Fresh Meat Company Ld., a concession to build a wharf at Campana, under inspection of the Department of National Engineers. The concessionaires are bound to remove the wharf for the convenience of the Government when requested to do so, without any protest or indemnity.

The pontoon Vanguardia is in imminent risk of disappearing under the water; the timber of the ship is in such a rotten condition that no tug can venture to tow the pontoon, as it would immediately fall to pieces. Under the circumstances the sailors and officers on board might be allowed to abandon the wreck.

Estancieros up the Uruguay have decided not to accept the reduction in the prices of their novillos. A paper of Paysandu publishes their protest, and cattle-grazers are all requested to keep up prices.

Advices from Montevideo state that the late lull in the Bolsa has been followed by some active operations in the Deuda Amortizable. Prices have advanced for cash and for the end of the month, but brokers complain that the activity visible is merely artificial and temporary. The export market rules dull, and few operations are reported in saladero produce or wool.

Advices from Europe state that the samples of Buenos Aires wheat, forwarded to the wheat markets, have not given satisfaction. These samples were sent very early in the season, and cannot form a basis of estimate of the quality in general. The wheat from the Southern districts of this province is of such superior and exceptional quality, that we do not doubt that its arrived in the European markets will attract the attention of all cornmen.

The Liebig Saladero has slaughtered up to date about 50,000 head of cattle, and the Nuevo Paysandu 15,060. Killing up-rivers proceeds very slowly. Holders of novillos are trying to "corner" the saladeristas, but the attempt will probably be very unsuccessful.

Discounts in Montevideo are at 6½ per cent per annum.

As the drought in the camp is occasioning very serious losses we recommend to sheep-farmers and estancieros the perusal of Messrs. Schwartz's advertisement in another column. A "noria" will be put up by the firm for $6,000 m/c and $100 m/c will be charged per metre of chain. The noria can be worked by any old horse and will give 60 pipes of water per day. Estancieros might take note of this.

The Schiedam II has been chartered to load tallow at Gualeguaychu for orders at reserved rates.

About 500 shares were sold during afterhours. The market closed at 106¾ for the end of the month, sellers.

3,000 salted ox hides from Becker's saladero in Ensenada were reported sold to-day at reserved rates.

At afterhours some important exchange operations were reported. Some £40,000 stg. passed at 49¾ and middling amounts of francs at 5.22 on France and 5.23 on Antwerp.

The sales at afterhours were:—

The Provincial Bank discounted yesterday $7,000,000 m/c, and the Nat. Bank $140,000. The market anticipates a great restriction of discounts in the Provincial Bank before long; in June, when the conversion law is enforced, the Bank will no longer be able to discount as at present, say, ten millions per week; the National Bank will meantime meet the demands of the public, and its discounts are likely to increase rapidly in consequence. Before the end of the year a complete change will take place in the relative position of both Banks, and the tables will be turned.

The Nacion publishes a commercial correspondence from Bordeaux, containing estimates of the production of wool in the three great wool countries—Australia, the River Plate and Cape of Good Hope. The figures do not harmonize with those published in the well-known circular of J. L. Bowes & Brothers of Liverpool, whose statements are known to be the most accurate and reliable. According to Messrs. Bowes the production of wool in Australia, Cape of Good Hope and the R. Plate, as shown by the receipts into Europe, the U. States, Canada, &c., in the years 1874-1882 and in 1860, which indicate the growth of the years preceding those named, was:—

A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limitacion de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alvear (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez, Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de Clark, el proyectado ramal del F. C. del O. desde el Pergamino al Rio 4° y el Oeste Santafesino. Estos campos lindan con los famosos y conocidos del Venado Tuerto y con estancias, como la de los Sres Ostendorp y Ca., Diego Alvear, heredero de Armstrong y otros.

Los campos que acaba de vender el Gobierno de la Provincia a 400,000 m/c estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se estan construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a venderse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus pastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede tomar la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de ½ (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lotes seran vendidos sin reserva de ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o/o de interes. Los planos de estos campos podran obtenerse del 20 del corriente Febrero en adelante ocurriendo a casa del Sr D. Eduardo Casey num. 80, o a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

NOTA—No olvidarse que el remate se efectuara aqui en la Capital Calle Alsina 78.

Estos campos forman parte de la gran Estancia que pertenecio al finado General Don Prudencio Ortiz de Rosas y eran reputados como la flor de los campos del Azul, y el lote que ofrecemos lo mejor, pues es cruzado por el arroyo la Corina y alli existe la poblacion del mismo nombre. En prueba de ello es que este campo esta arrendado desde hace 5 años por 80,000$ al año venciendo al contrato el 1 de Abril del corriente año y el actual arrendatario estamos seguros no lo dejara por pesos 100,000.

A mas del arroyo la Corina que atraviesa el campo, tiene dos lagunas mas.

Los pastos en su mayor parte son tiernos y superiores pues estan poblados estos campos hace mas de 35 años.

La venta se hara en uno o dos lotes con la infima base de $500,000 legua cuadrada precio sumamente bajo, pues campos iguales acaban de venderse en Ayacucho por nosotros mismos a $1,200,000 legua.
